

the privilege of joining the Detroit Symphony Orchestra flute section for large portions of their 2008-13 seasons, including DSO live from Orchestra Hall recordings, DSO Beethoven Festival and Carnegie Hall Spring for Music Festival concerts, and continues to play extra flute and piccolo with the DSO. In 2012, Ruby-Kushious rejoined the flute/piccolo section of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, where she started her orchestral career. She holds the solo piccolo position and is currently filling an appointment as second flute through June 2019.

Ruby-Kushious has been the instructor of flute at various colleges and universities, including Kenyon College, Capital University and The University of Akron, where she performed as a member of Solaris Woodwind Quintet (2014-16). While pursuing her master's degree at Yale University, she was the Assistant Instructor of Undergraduate Flute. She can be heard on numerous recordings, including Dominick Farinacci's Short Stories (2016), and many Cleveland Orchestra, CityMusic Cleveland and Columbus Symphony Orchestra releases.